Napoleon Hill's Greatest Speeches: An Official Publication Of The Napoleon Hill Foundation

Synopsis

We are pleased to present this never before published collection from the one and only, Napoleon Hill. Along with other never before published material, this volume includes the speech that inspired the worldwide bestseller Think and Grow Rich. With a foreword by Napoleon's grandson Dr. J.B. Hill and introductory comments by Don Green, Director of The Napoleon Hill Foundation, personal letters from family members and Senator Jennings Randolph, this fascinating exploration of the speeches given by the pioneer of the personal development movement is packed with a wealth of information. It is a revealing look at one man's quest for understanding why some men succeed, why others do not, and what makes success something that can be replicated. This collection will provide you with some of Napoleon's finest speeches including: What I Have Learned From Analyzing 10,000 People, The Man Who Has Had no Chance, The Commencement Address at Salem College in Salem, West Virginia, 1922—likely his best-remembered and most-influential speech. Napoleon Hill dedicated much of his life to solving what he called "the most stupendous problem confronting the human race today." That is, "How can I get what I want?" As W. Clement Stone and thousands of others can attest, Hill succeeded in this venture, and we now have a success philosophy that Andrew Carnegie once saw as a possibility. The pages within this book will tell you of the origins of a personal development legacy.

Customer Reviews

If these were Napoleon Hill's Greatest Speeches, then why were they never published before? That would be my first question when approaching this book. According to the grandson of Napoleon Hill, very few of Napoleon Hill's speeches have survived in print. As an avid fan of Think and Grow Rich, picking up my first copy at the age of 18 years old, I would have liked to think that this book would have been out a long time ago in order to help put that seminal work into greater evolutionary context (aside from Laws of Success). The Speeches in this book include: What I Learned from Analyzing Ten Thousand People, The Man Who Has Had No Chance, The End of the Rainbow: The Five Essentials of Success, Maker of Miracle Men, Going the Extra Mile: Success Unlimited, Appendix: Article and Letters. As you can see by their titles, Napoleon Hill was a master at marketing and in creating anticipation in the reader/listener of his works. Like any great minister of his gospel, the forward by Napoleon Hill's grandson, J.B. Hill, divulges that any speech Mr. Hill gave was usually accompanied by merely a single page of notes. I would argue that since these speeches composed Napoleon Hill's bread and butter philosophy of success, as time grew on, he was able to refine his message into the books that we have come to know and love today. The speeches give the reader an eye view into that refining process; and if we meditate upon them rather than simply rushing through the material, they allow us a certain growth in our revelation of and understanding of the principles he learned and lived by...universal truths that allow us to tap into a reservoir of abundant life that we should all be partakers of.
